Azurea sachet powder at Reinhardt's—new and very popular.

Tasteless syrup of quinine for children, 25c per bottle, at Reinhardt's.

Ladies' gum boots and ladies' and children's gum shoes, at Pendleton's.

Miss Minnie Wilson has a position in the office of the Independent in this place.

Malt and cod liver oil, trial bottles 25c, large size $1.00, at Reinhardt's Pharmacy.

Mrs. M. L. Herrington will move her millinery store into the Righttime building on April 1st.

If you have a cough, try Allan's Tolu, Tar and Wild Cherry—25c at Reinhardt's Pharmacy.

Our laxative cold tablets if used promptly make short work of a cold—25c. Reinhardt's Pharmacy.

For Rent—Second-story rooms, with kitchen and room adjoining on first floor. Apply to Miss Magruder.

The Choral Society will meet next Monday evening at 7 o'clock. All the members are urged to be present.

Pendleton's store will receive next week, fresh from the factory, a fine line of Hamburgs. Call and see them.

The Confederate Veterans are requested to meet at H. M. Lyons's shop Saturday night at 6.30 and proceed to the hall in a body.

Robert G. Miller has bought from his mother, Mrs. Margaret Miller, the dwelling-house she now occupies, corner of German and Mill streets.

A big stock of real rubber hot-water bottles and fountain syringes have just arrived at our store. Good time to select. Reinhardt's Pharmacy.

If you want sale bills of the best and your advertisement printed in the paper that has the largest circulation, come to the REGISTER office.

Rev. H. I. Stephens began a protracted meeting in the M. E. Church South last Monday night, and will continue it throughout this week and next.

When your prescriptions are put up here they contain ingredients that have all the medicine value that the doctor depends on. Reinhardt's Pharmacy.

Have you enquired of Potomac Permanent Building Association for that loan you want? Do so, by all means, for they offer the easiest terms for repayment.

Senator Elkins has introduced a bill in Congress to pay $400 to Jos. R. Howell, of Kabetstown, this county, for horses stolen from him during the Civil War.

For Sale or Rent—My house on Mill street, occupied by me at present, is for sale or rent. For terms, apply to R. G. Miller. Several small houses for rent.

A fresh lot of Lowmyer's popular candies in packages from 10c to 60c. Also fresh lot of those popular mint and薄荷 drops at 10c a pound. Reinhardt's Pharmacy.

An epidemic of bad colds and the more severe gripe has prevailed among the people the past week or two, and reports indicate that it is general throughout the country.

"I do not see how I could do without the REGISTER, as I look forward to its weekly arrival and am always glad to read the news of my old home,"—W. Z. Graves, Cardington, Ohio.

The Shepherdstown Chapter, U. D. C., will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Alice Gibson. A full attendance is desired, as this is the time for the annual election of officers.

News from Washington is to the effect that Mrs. D. M. Carr, formerly of this place, who was so badly injured in the railroad accident at Terra Cotta, is daily improving, and is now regarded as out of danger. Her broken bones are mending and her injuries generally are healing. Her mother, Mrs. G. M. Beltzhoover, who was with her for a couple of weeks, has returned to Shepherdstown.

We have had a peculiar spell of weather the past week. Beginning with last Saturday, there were four days of rain. Tuesday night snow began to fall, and this came down all day yesterday, making a typical winter scene—the first of the season. Last night the snow turned to sleet, and this morning the sleet is falling steadily. The snow is four or five inches deep and sleighs are running.

Don't forget the entertainment to be given by the Daughters of the Confederacy on Saturday evening of this week in the town hall. Hot waffles and stewed and fried chicken for 25 cents, supper being served throughout the evening. At seven o'clock a very interesting and entertaining programme will be rendered upon the stage. Come one, come all, and help make the occasion a memorable one.

A good deal of interest attached to the meeting of the stockholders of the Citizens National Bank of Charles Town last Thursday. The number of directors was cut down from twelve to seven, and Lewis D. Getzendanner was elected president in place of Levi M. Porter. These directors were chosen: B. F. Langdon, Geo. W. Shull, T. O. Green, N. T. Snyder, D. Getzendanner, John C. Burns and E. G. Wilson. Immediately after the election of the board of directors, the members reorganized with the following officers: B. F. Langdon and John C. Burns, vice-presidents. The old bank officials were re-elected as follows: J. Frank Turner, cashier; A. M. S. Morgan, assistant cashier; and J. L. Gibson, bookkeeper.

LITTLE LOCALS.

One dollar gets the REGISTER for a year. Won't you enroll your name among its subscribers?

A considerable number of new subscribers are added to our list this week. We appreciate these favors and only wish to say that yet there is room.

The REGISTER erred last week in saying that Rev. J. E. Triplett, of Duffields, had bought the dwelling-house of Henry W. Potts in Shepherdstown. His son, G. Hampton Triplett, was the purchaser.

Wm. C. Clipp has sold his farm near Duffields, this county, to Harvey H. Hendricks at a price a little over $66 an acre. The place contains 162 acres of good limestone land, and was formerly owned by Sheriff Robert Lucas, deceased.

John L. Livers, who has the contract for installing the electrical machinery at the new power plant at Dam No. 4, has moved his headquarters from Shepherdstown to Lancaster, Pa., where he has some important work to do.

One day last week Wm. C. Moler, in crossing his farm, formerly owned by John Bunn Melvin, near Uvilla, found a terrapin that had out on its back the inscription "Thomas M. Melvin, June 2, 1826," dating back more than eighty years ago. A terrapin bearing the same lettering, and beyond doubt the same one, was seen by Thomas Link some fifteen years ago.—Charles Town Spirit.

George W. Cross, of Rocky Marsh, has kindly lent us a specimen of the anthracite coal now being mined in the western part of Berkeley county. Mr. Cross paid a visit to that neighborhood recently, and reports that a number of shafts are being sunk. The indications are very encouraging, as some big veins of coal have been struck, and the coal burns well. A wealthy syndicate is pushing the matter.

Charles D. Wysong has sold his large farm warehouse and the lot it occupies on Princess street, together with his carriage repair business and hardware and supply store, to Charles S. Miller. Mr. Miller will continue the business at the same place and will also move his marble shop there. Mr. Wysong will devote his time to the management of his farms and his large orchards, which are now just about to come into bearing.

The regular meeting of the town council was held Monday night, all the members present. The sergeant reported $879.20 turned over to the treasurer, and treasurer reported $516.85 in hand. Geo. W. Billmyer, Dr. R. C. Grove and W. L. Shell were relieved of erroneous assessment. An order was passed to pay to Treasurer W. N. Lemen, of the Rumsey Society, the sum of $250 heretofore appropriated for the proposed Rumsey monument. After passing a number of bills, council adjourned.

The members of the Lutheran Sunday School will give a cantata in the town hall Friday and Saturday evenings of next week, January 25th and 26th, entitled "The Happy Family of Father Time." The music and libretto is by Charles H. Gabriel, and the play is very bright and enjoyable. Forty girls will take part in the cast, and the costumes will be unusually pretty. The admission will be 15 cents, reserved seats 25 cents. The proceeds are for a worthy cause and liberal patronage is invited.

It is with much regret that we note a painful accident that befell John W. Marshall at his home near Kearneysville last Thursday evening. He was descending a stairway when he made a mis-step and fell, fracturing his hip at the socket joint. Dr. G. W. Banks was called in and gave him surgical attention, but owing to Mr. Marshall's advanced age, 78 years, the injury is a very serious one. Mr. Marshall has been in failing health for some time past, and the infirmities of old age are pressing heavily upon him.

O. T. Reilly, the Antietam battlefield guide, has presented us with a copy of his souvenir and guide book, entitled "The Battlefield of Antietam." It is an interesting and valuable publication, containing a map and a hundred views of scenes on or near the famous battleground, including a splendid double-page panoramic view. There are historical descriptions written from both the southern and northern standpoints, and fine cuts of the many handsome monuments and other points of interest connected with the battlefield. The books are 25 cents each, and Mrs. M. L. Herrington has them for sale in Shepherdstown.

Isaac F. Nicholson, Esq., of Baltimore, in renewing his subscription to the REGISTER, writes us as follows: A friendly greeting to you. You are now having the "Rumsey monument" and the "new railroad bridge" to occupy and divert your attention. In my view, the most promising future for "ancient and honorable" Shepherdstown would be to make it a summer resort and home for residents of Baltimore and Washington. As attractions you have the beautiful and romantic river, fine drives, nearness to Antietam, and splendid water supply, Morgan's spring, which could be utilized, in addition to your sublimely climate and beautiful conditions. But alas and alas! There are your railroad facilities—they remain unadjusted. Time alone can remedy them—may the change come sooner than we can now foresee.

Possesses wonderful medicinal power over the human body, removing all disorders from your system, is what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Makes you well, keeps you well. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets. Reinhardt's Pharmacy.

H. Anderson, for 43 years an employee of the B. and O. Railroad and a popular passenger engineer, died at his home in Martinsburg yesterday from paralysis, aged 61 years.

That's the house the Doctor built. The biggest house you see. Thank goodness he don't get our money. For we take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea.

PERSONALS.

Mr. W. E. Leedy, of Shenandoah Junction, was in to see us yesterday. Mr. Leedy is spending most of his time now at Norfolk, Va., looking after his concession at the Jamestown Exposition, where he has the privilege of selling tobacco and cigars. He is enthusiastic about the exposition, and says it will be one of the finest the world has ever known. He states that many of the buildings are practically finished and that the big fair will be ready for opening day, April 26th.

Tracy L. Jeffords, Esq., of Harper's Ferry, was in Shepherdstown last Friday and presented to Shepherd College a complete set of the Official Records of the Operations of the Navy during the Civil War. It is a valuable publication, and the college fully appreciates Mr. Jeffords' gift.

Among the REGISTER's subscribers from out of town who called the past week to renew their subscription were Frank R. McQuilkin, D. H. Moler, D. R. Whiting, James P. Staley, Mayberry McKee, W. H. Miller, C. W. Carter, Dr. M. H. Crawford, Capt. J. S. Melvin, W. E. Leedy.

Miss Martha Licklider, who is teaching school at Silver Grove, spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in this place. She was accompanied by Miss Adele Dailey, of Harper's Ferry.

Mr. J. Lester Miller, who has a position in the general offices of the Norfolk & Western Railway at Roanoke, spent Sunday with his home folks in Shepherdstown.

Miss Leah Lindsay, of Hagerstown, Md., is spending a few weeks with her cousin, Miss Louise Billmyer, near Billmyer's Mill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence McChen have returned from Berkeley county, where they have been rusticiating for several months.

Mr. R. L. Billmyer, of Billmyer's Mill, who has been sick for the past couple of months, is slowly recovering.

Prof. Waitman Barbe, of the West Virginia University, was in Shepherdstown a day or two last week.

Miss Katie Arthur is spending a week or two with friends in Wayneboro, Pa.

Mrs. F. T. Grove continues very sick at her home in this place.

Mr. M. L. Burgan, of Sharpsburg, was among our callers last Friday.

The Troubles of Charles Stump.

"I am perfectly willing to be imprisoned. I want to be checked in some way, and I suppose that is the best way." Charles M. Stump, 20 years old, the son of Rev. J. P. Stump, pastor of the Southern Methodist Church in Luray, Va., stood before Justice Grannan in the Central District Police Court, Baltimore, Tuesday morning and made the foregoing remarks. Stump was arrested on January 12 on the charge of passing three forged checks, in all amounting to $45. When the young man was arraigned before Justice Grannan he admitted the charges, but the complainants who had sworn out the warrants declined to prosecute.

Rev. Mr. Stump, the father of the young man, and one of his uncles, who were present, were deeply affected, and it was on the minister's account that the complainants decided not to testify in the case. Young Stump did not want his son sent to prison on the charge of forgery, so when the complainant declined to prosecute, Justice Grannan said: "Young man, I believe you will be benefited if you are put in some institution for a while. As you have been arrested before on some minor charges, I will change this charge of forgery to leading a habitually disorderly course of life and sentence you to six months in the House of Correction. You are young yet and have a chance to reclaim yourself. Serve your sentence and come out of the institution with a determination to do better. If you are really in earnest and determined you will find those who will assist you."

Young Stump, whose family is well connected in Berkeley county, was recently arrested in Martinsburg for passing worthless checks.

Public Sales. The following public sales are now or will be advertised in the REGISTER or posters printed for them:

Tuesday, February 12—Real estate by Chas. W. Conrad, near Ripon.

Friday, February 22—Personal property by G. W. Z. Black, near Middleway.

Monday, February 25—Personal property by R. A. Hammond, on Sandy Ridge.

Wednesday, March 6—Personal property by J. Butler Roneemus, near Shepherdstown.

Thursday, March 7—Personal property by Geo. D. Baumgardner, near Hallowton.

Tuesday, March 10—Personal property by H. H. Hendricks, near Shenandoah Junction.

NATURE'S CATARRH CURE.

Sensible and Scientific Way to Cure This Disagreeable Disease.

In no other way can catarrh be cured as naturally and quickly as by the use of Hyomei breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit.

In this way all the air that enters the nasal passages, the throat or the lungs, is filled with Hyomei's healing medication, reaching the most remote air cells of the respiratory organs, and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

So strong is our faith in the power of Hyomei to cure catarrhal troubles, that with every dollar outfit we sell, we give a guarantee to refund the money unless it cures.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, if needed, 50c.

Passing Through the Silent Gates.

Leonard T. Rogers, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rogers, of Shepherdstown, died far away from home and native land on January 1st. Mr. Rogers was a soldier in the regular army of the United States, being a member of Troop I, Fourth Cavalry, now on duty in the Philippines. A brief message from the War Department a few days ago conveyed the sad news to his parents, but no details have yet been received. The deceased had been in the army for about five years, and had been in the Philippines for about eighteen months.

He is said to have been an excellent soldier. His parents received a letter from him several weeks ago, written in November, in which he stated that he had been ill but had recovered. It is supposed that there was a return of the illness, as it is not thought he was killed in battle. Particulars are expected from the captain of his company, but it will probably be a month before these are received, as it takes a letter six weeks to reach this place. Mr. Rogers, who was born and raised in this place, was about 26 years of age. He is survived by his parents and two brothers. The family have the sympathy of the community in their trouble.

Miss Katie Stupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stupp, died in Martinsburg Tuesday morning, aged 32 years. She was a native of Shepherdstown, but had lived in Martinsburg for the past fourteen years. She had been in declining health for several months past, her last illness having been caused by falling into an unguarded excavation in the streets of Martinsburg. She was an estimable woman, a consistent member of the Lutheran Church, and was respected by all who knew her. Her body was brought to the home of her parents in this place, and the funeral service will be held in the Lutheran Church this afternoon at two o'clock.

Col. Elijah V. White, a prominent resident of Leesburg, Va., died last Friday from paralysis, aged 75 years. He was a noted Confederate soldier, and was ranked among the bravest men in the Southern Army. For special service in 1861 at Ball's Bluff he was promoted to the rank of major and raised a command known throughout the war as White's Battalion, which did brilliant work and was noted for its gallantry and efficiency. He was wounded badly seven times. Col. White had a number of friends in this county who will regret to learn of his death. He was a local preacher of the Baptist denomination, and occasionally preached in this neighborhood.

Mrs. Jennie Groves, formerly Miss Jennie Fawcett, of Shepherdstown, died suddenly from heart disease in Roanoke, Va., last Thursday night. Her husband, Harry Groves, who was for many years in charge of a wrecking train on the N. & W. Railway, died only a few months ago. Mrs. Groves, who was about 55 years of age, is survived by several children, also two brothers, John and Charles Fawcett, who live in the West. She was an estimable woman, and her old friends here will learn of her death with much regret. She was buried in Roanoke on Saturday.

Henry Keel, formerly a resident of this county, died at his home in Mason City, Iowa, December 27, 1906, aged 70 years. Mr. Keel went to Mason City to live in 1858, and was for eight years postmaster of that city. He is survived by a wife and three children, who reside in Iowa, and also by three sisters and three brothers in this State.

Mr. Lemuel Campbell, an old resident of Romney, this State, died last Saturday at the home of his nephew, Gilbert W. McKown, in Martinsburg. Mr. Campbell, who was in his 88d year, was a native of Berkeley county, but had lived for 25 years in Romney, where he had a daughter, Mrs. I. H. C. Pancake.

Mrs. Temple Anna Eversole, wife of Jacob Eversole, died at her home in Martinsburg last week, aged 74 years. She was a highly respected woman, and besides a wide circle of friends, leaves a husband, one son and one daughter to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Ann Krauss, a native of Jefferson county, died in Jefferson City, Mo., at an advanced age. She was a daughter of James Harris, deceased, who moved to the West in 1852.

Joseph R. Brown, an aged Berkeley county farmer, died last Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. M. Pitzer. He was 74 years old.

To the Public.

Rumors having been circulated which unexplained might injure the National Citizens Bank of Charles Town, we desire to state that the National Citizens Bank was never in a stronger position since its organization than it is today. And after a prosperous year, it has just added two thousand dollars to its surplus funds. A deed of trust was recently given to the Bank by a perfectly solvent party, to secure all his loans and endorsements at the Bank, which seems to have been the basis of the false rumors. The lien really protects and strengthens the Bank, although the loans were secured prior to the execution of the deed of trust. The said Bank since it received the deed of trust has not been injured by it, but on the other hand is in a stronger position than it was before. These loans are now protected by good Jefferson county real estate security. The funds are all right.

Respectfully,

A Navigable Stream.

It will be news to most persons to learn that the Potomac river at Shepherdstown is a navigable stream in the opinion of the United States Government, yet such seems to be the case. A hundred years ago there was a considerable business between Shepherdstown and Georgetown on the river, traffic being conducted by means of flat boats, which were helped along down stream and afterward laboriously up stream by means of poles set against the shoulders of the sturdy boatmen. In a paper now before us, printed in 1817, James Bell advertises his line of four boats in good order carrying merchandise between Shepherdstown and Alexandria by way of Georgetown, and refers to his warehouse on the bank of the river at this place where there was room to store many hundreds of barrels of flour. There was at that time regular water communication between these places. Channels were kept in good order, and where necessary ledges of rock had been blasted out so as to give sufficient depth for the passage of the boats. At the Great Falls of the Potomac, above Washington, a canal with locks were used to get the boats around the falls.

No bridge may be built across a navigable stream without permission of the government, and though no boats save little skiffs now cleave the waters of the Potomac, even a great railroad company must make it clear that navigation will not be impeded by its improvements. The Norfolk & Western Railway, we feel assured, will not seriously interfere with water traffic, as its new bridge will be over a hundred feet above the stream. Nevertheless, it must comply with the law, hence the following report of an item of business in Congress last Monday:

Senator Raynor introduced a bill to authorize the Norfolk and Western Railway Company to construct a bridge across the Potomac river at or near Shepherdstown, W. Va., where the Potomac river forms the boundary line between West Virginia and Maryland, in accordance with provisions of the Act of March 23, 1906, regulating construction of bridges over navigable waters. The proposed act is to be and unless the actual construction of the bridge is begun within two years and completed within three years after passage of the act. Representative Pearce, of Maryland, introduced an identical bill to this on the House side.

The Jar of Coughing

To the Afflicted.

Dr. C. H. Whiting, late with Dr. Watson of New York, Graduate of Medicine for the past 47 years, and who for the past 22 years made disease of the rectum his specialty, desires to inform his patrons and the public that he has removed to 928 N. Fulton Avenue, Baltimore, Md., where he has every facility for the above treatment, which is so thoroughly advanced that his patrons are not prevented from attending to their duties, nor are surgical operations resorted to. He makes no charge for consultation or examination. Ladies treated at their homes by skilled lady attendants. Dr. Whiting's process knows not the meaning of the word "failure." Why suffer this dread disease when permanent relief is at hand? Phone Madison 1744 Y. Thousands of testimonials presented upon application.

Have cured two doctors 35 years old, who had practiced medicine for 60 years, also cured one man 88 years old, who lived for five years afterwards, and cured a woman 82 years old. The treatment is concluded in from three to five minutes, and no bad effects afterward. People gain from 25 to 80 pounds after treatment.

NOTICE.

Having sold out my carriage and hardware business in Shepherdstown, all persons indebted to me are hereby requested to make settlement of their accounts as soon as possible.

Adjusting Land Damages.

Major C. O. Taliaferro, land agent of the Norfolk & Western Railway, is in Shepherdstown this week adjusting the damages of those whose property will be taken by the railroad for its new line to connect with the proposed big bridge across the Potomac. Major Taliaferro is a genial Virginia gentleman—an old Confederate who spent considerable time with Lee and Jackson in this valley forty-odd years ago. He has been dealing most courteously and liberally with our people, and the spirit of fairness that he manifests has been appreciated by those who have had business relations with him. He has adjusted damages with John H. Show, R. G. Miller, Joseph Turner, Henry Reynolds, H. C. Marten, Wilson Dunmore, Mrs. Josephine Craven, and perhaps others. The Reformed and Lutheran churches have not yet concluded negotiations. All of the above named who have had their claims settled are satisfied with the amounts awarded them and feel that Major Taliaferro has treated them right. Only a few cases remain to be adjusted, and these have not been settled because of inability to see all the parties interested or for other good reasons. The intention of Major Taliaferro to deal justly with the people has caused them on their part to be reasonable in their demands, and little friction has occurred. The Major is assisted in his work by Mr. Bruner and Mr. Dow, of the engineering service of the railroad.

Commissioner's Notice.

To the Creditors of Mrs. Lydia Ann Kimble, deceased. Having before me for settlement the account of Geo. M. Beltzhoover, Administrator, of the estate of said Mrs. Lydia Ann Kimble, deceased, for adjustment to me, the undersigned Commissioner of Accounts of the County Court of Jefferson County, West Va., at my office in Shepherdstown, in said county, on or before the 31 day of March, 1907, at which time and place I will receive proof of debts or demands against the said decedent or his estate. Given under
